Honored Speaker

Saints Community was honored to welcome Rev. Peter M. Donahue, O.S.A., PhD to campus. The leading Augustinian, scholar, educator and President of Villanova University addressed St. Augustine High's Senior Class. Please listen to the collegial words of his commencement address on the YouTube video link published on this page. Fr. Donohue is seen here in an earlier photograph visiting Pope Francis at the Vatican. More coverage of Saints Baccalaureate Mass and Graduation images see Page 4.

It's Our House!

Another Banner Year for Saints Athletics

The Athletic Department team, who hangs the winning banners in our house on the gym walls, will be very busy this summer. Reason is Saints sports had a proverbial banner year earning seven league titles: Cross Country, Basketball, Soccer, Tennis, Swimming, Volleyball, and Track. And, that's not counting two banners no other school in the County will boast or post. We're referring to the best of the best championships. Saints Athletics now proudly hails two CIF Open Division titles in Basketball and Soccer.

MORE BANNERS. Per a proud tradition a new banner goes on the gym wall after a Saints championship is won. (Banners shown are from a file photo of a past graduation ceremony). Quite a few banners went up this Fall/Winter. See page 20 for a round up of Saints Spring sports titles that are banner bound.

Augustinian Heritage

Serendipity and The Holy Spirit

By Edwin Hearn, President / St. Augustine High School

As much as each of us would like to predict the future, it is a hit-ormiss proposition. Each of us meets countless people each day and in most cases, and in all probability, we will never see each other again... but occasionally, we meet someone, and it just clicks.

In November last year, a special situation presented itself to my wife and me. Our youngest son and his wife had our third grandchild in October, and we made plans to travel to Austin, Texas to meet the newest addition to our family. The plane was full.

What are the chances of meeting a person not even sitting next to you but in a seat in a different row of the plane and then months later having a significant impact in helping this person solve a problem that they are confronting? If it happened, we might say "Well that is a coincidence, or a person of the faith might say "That was the Holy Spirit!" This past year I had this experience. Every time I think of it, I feel the smile and satisfaction that a relationship that became possible has carried on and led to a positive outcome.

After the flight came to a stop at the Austin airport, the lights came on in the cabin, and along with others sitting in the aisle seat rose to open the overhead baggage compartment. As I opened the compartment overhead, I noticed a young lady struggling to get her luggage from the compartment next to mine. I asked her if I could help her and given her small size, she nodded her head in the affirmative. I reached over and was able to extricate it and handed it to her. She smiled and thanked me.

As my wife and I walked down the center aisle of the plane, the woman I had helped was ahead of me and my wife was a step or two behind me. I am not sure exactly how the conversation began but we began talking to this lady about her trip and this led to introductions and learning about what each of us did professionally.

By the time we arrived at Baggage claim, I knew her name was Brandi, she was married with two children, a girl, and a boy, lived in Austin, worked for a large company that required travel, had her children enrolled in a Catholic school and her husband wondered whether it was worth it.

Brandi knew we were visiting Austin to see our grandson for the first time, my wife was retired, I was president of St. Augustine High School, had written a book about the 100th anniversary of our all-boys school, and had worked in Catholic schools for over 50 years.

This back-and-forth conversation in a very narrow window of walking from the plane to baggage check out had created enough interest for me to give her my business card and asked her to text me her contact information. For this, I would send her my book. At this point, we collected our bags and parted and I wondered whether she would send that text message. Within minutes I had forgotten this short encounter as my focus was squarely on making the connection with my son, his wife and my grandson at curbside.

At this point, the odds of a connection point seemed highly improbable. It was a nice exchange, but why would she text me to continue our new relationship that was more than two hours away from San Diego by plane?

While we were still in Austin, Brandi texted me her address and told me her husband needed to read the book. She was sure the book would convince him that Catholic education was a great investment. When I returned home, my office sent Brandi a copy of the book.

The next time I heard from Brandi was in February. Her text message said, "I have finished the book and St. Augustine High School seems like a perfect school for any boy." She wanted me to know she shared parts of the book with a friend and in their conversation, they wondered whether I or someone I knew could start an all-boys Catholic school in Austin. She expressed they were both worried about their sons' futures and it seemed a school like Saints would be a big help in raising their sons into good men. From our texts, Brandi learned I was not available to start a Catholic school in Austin, but could advise them about how they might go about it.

Months passed and then in May, I received a text from Brandi, "Can I phone you about an issue I am having?" I said, "Of course! How about right now?" My phone rang a few minutes later and after some small talk she informed me that the Catholic School her children attended had a rally and in one part of the rally, a game was played that required some students to cover their faces with Nutella which created kids wearing "Black face!" With the community in an uproar, the Principal wrote a weak apology to the community that made it seem like she did not understand the significance of this incident and its effect on the school community.

Brandi, an African American woman, while upset was trying to find a way to help this principal with taking responsibility for the actions of her teaching staff. She felt it was a moment to instruct the community about the history of "Black face" and make sure everyone felt included in the school.

After listening to Brandi, I noticed she was calming down and her emotions began to dissipate. She became relaxed and we were able to have a relaxed conversation about the issue. I was able to give her a few

Defining the Class of 2023

Who They Are and Where They're Going

Compiled by Saints Admissions Staff

Congratulations to the Class of 2023 all 169 of you! You have emerged from the shadows of the Covid Pandemic and done a stellar job of navigating the college search, application, and selection process. By and large, you have recovered well from the educational disruptions of online classes and the cohort system in your sophomore year. You have learned important lessons about resilience and perseverance and have done well in finding the right-fit colleges to continue your education at the next level.

Members of the class of 2023 will attend 74 different colleges in 30 states, Mexico, and New Zealand. You will attend prestigious universities all around the country including the University of Notre Dame, Villanova University, UC Berkeley, and Vanderbilt. Two of you will attend United States Military Academies (Air Force and Coast Guard). One of you will go to the Citadel in North Carolina and one to the California Maritime Academy. Two of your classmates have won full ROTC scholarships to USC and to Georgia Tech. Seniors were admitted to 34 Catholic colleges and 35 of you will attend 12 different Catholic colleges across the U.S. and one in Mexico. This year 19 students applied, and all were admitted to Loyola University in Chicago, and nine will attend in the fall. Ten seniors will attend the University of San Diego next year. Once again, 29% of seniors will attend a Catholic or Christian college in the fall. Members of the Class of 2023 were admitted to all nine UC campuses and 8 students will attend 4 of the UC schools. Seniors were admitted to 19 CSU schools and 26 will be attending 10 campuses, including 16 at San Diego State University. As of today, 30 seniors will attend a two-year college.

Some data that we would like to highlight this year is in regard to the self-identified "first generation" students in the Class of 2023. Among the 37 seniors identifying as 1st gen, 28 of you will attend 4-year colleges in the fall, 13 to Catholic colleges and four to Christian schools, which is an even higher percentage than among the class as a whole. Eight of you will attend 2-year colleges and one will do a formal "gap-year" program in Germany, learning the language and culture.

As of today, members of the Class of 2023 have reported $1.5 million in grants, scholarships, and work-study that will be used in the first year of college alone, which will total over $6 million over the next four years. Congratulations to all that received a grant, scholarship, or work-study offer.

On behalf of the Counseling Department, Congratulations to the Class of 2023! We wish you all the best as you continue your education beyond Saints and move into your adult lives and careers.

LAST MAN STANDING. A particular enlightening and touching segment of Fr. Peter Donohue's Address to the Senior Class came when he asked "All those going to college next Fall in the Northeast part of the country please stand." Quite a few Saintsmen stood. "All those going to college in Pennsylvania remain standing," he said. Most everyone sat down. Next, Fr. Donohue, who is President of Villanova University asked, "Anyone going to college near Philadelphia remain standing." The last Saintsman standing was Henry Hooper, Class Salutatorian, whereupon Fr. Donohue said, "Welcome to Villanova!"

Salutatorian Henry Hooper

Salutatorian Address

By Henry Hooper

I want to start by saying thanking Mr. Horne and the administration for the privilege to speak before everyone here this morning. And a big thank you to all of the friends and family here today, and for all the love and support you have given us over the last four years.

St. Augustine High School is a very special place. From the rich 100-year history, to the Augustinian traditions and values that are woven into the fabric of this school, to the incredible Brotherhood, Saints is truly unique, and in my mind, unrivaled.

We, the Class of 2023, were brought together four years ago, perhaps by chance, perhaps not. We set foot on campus wondering what language the words "Unitas, Caritas, and Veritas" came from. We wanted to know how we could embody those values. We wanted to learn about the Brotherhood and what it means to be a Saintsman. Our desires were granted, and our expectations were exceeded.

When I think about what I value the most about my class, it is the size. Only 170 men. We are so fortunate to be a part of this select group. Because of the small size of our class, we know everyone, and we were able to form our own community within the community of Saints.

This community was brought together by chance, yes, but it is held together because of the core values of Unitas, Caritas, and Veritas. Our journey began what seems like many, many years ago, when we had our freshman retreat. Being united as a class for 30 hours straight was a truly special time. It was a very unique experience to spend the night in the gym, getting to know each other, and beginning to build our arsenal of stories and memories.

We learned about Unitas and Caritas by watching our seniors lead the Pit and unite the four classes under one name: the Brotherhood. We learned that unity means we are all in this together. No Saintsman left behind. We learned to value our brothers, and to have each other's backs even in the most challenging of times.

Then we were given the opportunity to lead the new generation of Saintsmen, and show them what it meant to be a part of the Brotherhood. We grew closer through our shared experiences, and the stories that we will tell time and time again at reunions going forward. This unity and brotherly love is something truly special. It can be seen especially in previous generations of Saintsmen. It is my hope that the unity we have been fortunate enough to establish in just four years will continue to grow and develop no matter where Saintsmen from the Class of 2023 may go.

Saints is a very challenging school academically, and I am thankful for that. It is through challenges that we grow stronger. We were challenged to be truthful, and to live the value of Veritas. Despite all of the academic struggles, the long nights of Praha, the desperate cramming of minute details before a quiz in Mr. Cudal's English class, the stressful weeks of finals; we made it. This is the finish line.

We came into this gym as students, and we will leave as proud alumni. We leave not as the boys that entered these hallowed grounds four years ago, but as men prepared to participate in a changing world. We became the men that we are today because of the impact of St. Augustine High School, and the core values. We know what it means to be a part of a community, to be honest with ourselves and others, and to love and care for one another.

This is perhaps the last time that we will all be together as an entire class. Of course, it would be great if everyone came to the reunions, and we all hope that does happen. Looking around, I see people I will miss, people I wish I had more time to talk to and know better, and people I cannot wait to see again. As men preparing to face the world, we understand the need for unity and a strong community.

The community that we have here is special and will never die. We also understand the expectations of truth. Well, I am telling you the truth, and I am sure I speak for a lot of my classmates, when I say that I will miss this school, I will miss my teachers, and I will miss my brothers. We understand the societal longing for love and compassion. I know that every man here will advance to the next chapter of his life with a reinvigorated understanding of what it means to be kind, compassionate, generous, and caring, because of the lessons and opportunities that we had here at Saints.

And above all, we understand the responsibility and the honor of being lifelong Saintsmen. Wherever we go, we will represent the amazing work of this school. It is my hope that our lives and the lives of other Saintsmen will be a testament to the work of God that is being done by the faculty, staff, and Augustinians here. We are grateful for the opportunity to attend this incredible school, we are grateful for the knowledge and wisdom that we will take with us, and most importantly, we are grateful to be a part of this lifelong community, the Alumni of St. Augustine High School, as proud members of the Class of 2023.

It's Our House!

In that great pizza restaurant called the Saints Community be assured it's packed right now with current and former Saints coaches, players and faculty are giving each other high fives and "told-you-so" cheers. Time to bask, indeed.

And, no doubt the legions of student body Pit members are letting other schools know the road to victory goes through our house. To be the best you have to beat Saints. And, in 2022-23 few schools accomplished that mission implausible. BTW: This year's The Pit earned honors as SoCal Student Section of the Year.

Spring Sports Wrap-Up

By Mr. Matt Linville, Director of Athletics

Following a successful winter sports season, Saints spring sports kept the momentum. Congratulations to all for a very successful overall year for Saints Athletics 2022-23.

Baseball finished the year 16-12, qualifying for the prestigious Open Division as the 8th seed. Saints got eliminated after two close games against La Costa Canyon and Carlsbad. With the team dominated by sophomores and juniors, the future looks bright for baseball.

Lacrosse got off to a strong start but slipped a little in league play. However, the resume was still strong enough to earn the top-seed in the D1 bracket. With victories over La Jolla and Granite Hills, Saints clinched a spot in the championship game. Unfortunately, Saints ran into La Jolla Country Day's redhot goalkeeper and lost, 10-8 for the runner-up spot.

The Tennis team was the first spring sport to clinch a league title. In fact, the tennis team went undefeated in the regular season, going 18-0. Saints swept the league championship singles and doubles titles, and earned the No. 5 seed in the Open Division. While the team was knocked out by Del Norte, two singles and two doubles teams advanced to the CIF Individual championships, where half of them advanced as far as the Round of 16.

The Swim team was next up with its first league title since 2009. Several swimmers placed at CIF prelims, earning a spot in the CIF Finals.

The Golf team, in a bit of rebuilding year, finished with some positives, having one golfer qualify for the City Conference Match Play Finals and one golfer qualifying for the CIF Individual Championships.

Volleyball also won league, the program's first since back-to-back titles in 2018 and 2019. Volleyball earned the No. 4 seed in CIF D2, making it to the semifinals before losing to eventual champ, Eastlake.

Lastly, the Track team won its 4th league title in the last 5 years by going undefeated in league. Three athletes advanced to the CIF Finals, and placed 3rd in the mile, 5th in shotput, and 6th in pole vault.

All in all, it was a great year. Enjoy your summer. See you in the fall.

Great Things, Thanks to You.

It is amazing to reflect on the time and energy people have put forth this year to push the school forward. This year the Augustinians and the Board of Directors finalized the dream of campus rebuilding and dedicated a mosaic of Our Mother of Good Counsel. The administration, faculty and staff began work on the accreditation report, a new 6-year strategic plan, celebrated the 100th year, and organized and hosted the Augustinian Values Institute an international gathering of Augustinian educators. And lastly, the accomplishments of Saints' students in the areas of academics, athletics and community service continue to demonstrate the inspiring work being done in our school. All of this year's achievements affirm our pride and excitement about being members of the Saints community.

Thanks to your efforts, St. Augustine High School is strong, healthy, vibrant, productive and on the move.

Best wishes for a healthy, restful, and renewing summer.

Yours in the Spirit of Catholic Education,

Dames W. Home

suggestions for an email to the principal that she used in a wonderfully worded email. Brandi asked the principal whether the two of them could meet to figure out a good way to put the racial incident behind them and move forward. The principal got back to her almost immediately and encouraged Brandi to meet with her to deal with this awful decision. Brandi accepted the invitation and the two of them created a solution to the problem, which included education, inclusion, and a heartfelt apology.

The issue was worked out to Brandi's approval, and she texted me to thank me for my advice and most importantly to remind me, "that it was the Holy Spirit that connected us in the airport on that November day."

Meeting people is always mysterious. At the time, I thought this encounter at the airport would go nowhere, but it did. There was no way of knowing at the time we met that we would be working together on finding a solution to a racial issue in a Catholic elementary school in Austin, Texas.

Brandi's family was in San Diego recently and our families had dinner together.

SAINTS TRADITIONS Annual Banquet Honors Distinguished Students and Faculty

Annually, usually in late Spring the school schedules the Distinguished Student banquet celebrating the academic and athletic accomplishments of worthy graduating seniors.

As several times in the past, the traditional event was held at Tom Ham's Lighthouse Restaurant on Harbor Island.

The Baumann's, a family of Saints Parents and Alums, owns Tom Ham's and has kindly provided a space for the repast on May 19, 2023.

The banquet is an opportunity to congratulate our honored students and their parents, in addition a chance to thank the many dedicated teachers, coaches and mentors who have helped them in their ongoing quest for excellence.

The evening's Master of Ceremonies, Mr. James Horne, school principal said "the recognition celebrates the good harvest of God's gifts seen in them, in their parents, teachers and devoted friends of Saints."

Mr. Horne added, "The various awards circle around and represent the best of what St. Augustine High School values: community, learning and love."

The Distinguished Student Banquet celebrates the accomplishments of several of the graduating Saintsmen. This year the banquet was held at Tom Ham's Lighthouse and honored 25 Saintsmen. The evening provided parents, students, faculty/staff, Augustinians, and Board members an evening to celebrate some of what is best about the Saints Experience while taking in vistas in and around San Diego Bay.
