Be Positive!

Make Everyday a Special Day

By Gregory Hecht, Assistant Principal/Academics

Mr. Gregory Hecht

The start of any school year is a very exciting time filled with anticipation, reunions, and new beginnings.

So, as we begin this school year, be sure not to squander your opportunity to make the most of everyday! However, your daily quest to seek wisdom and happiness can sometimes be fraught with feelings of anxiety and apprehension. To get the school year off on the right foot and to help alleviate

Be Kind!

Dear Saintsmen, Families & Community

Principal James Horne

As we start another new school year here on Nutmeg Street, we are excited to welcome you and your sons back to what promises to be a meaningful and enriching time of growth and learning.

This year, our theme is "Be Kind," inspired by Ephesians 4:32: "Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you."

Saints has a long-standing commitment to educating students to become ethical and moral leaders who are responsible

Better Driving is a Goal We Can All Achieve

By Edwin Hearn, President, St. Augustine High School

President Edwin Hearn

DEAR PARENTS AND STUDENTS—St. Augustine High School has resided in North Park for the past 102 years. The first year 1922-23 Saints opened in Mission Hills at St. Vincent's Church. At the time of the school's move to North Park, it was a small subdivision with few homes on the outskirts of the city. During the next 100 years, growth in the area skyrocketed all around the school as witnessed by the rise in the population of people as well as vehicles.

With the growth of North Park since the founding of the school, the infrastructure in the region has not changed due to the age and historical aspect of the neighborhood. The

St. Monica Prayer Group

Who is St. Monica?

St. Monica is the mother of St. Augustine. She prayed many years for her son's conversion to the Catholic faith. Without the prayers of St. Monica, there would have never been St. Augustine. St. Augustine High School today is here because of St. Monica's love and persistent prayers for her son.

Our Mission

Like St. Monica, we as parents pray for our children to be guided by Christ, especially during the formative years of high school. Our mission is to pray for our sons, our families, and the St. Augustine High School community.

Join Us for "St. Monica Mass" on Thursdays During the School Year

We gather Thursday mornings when school is in session for Mass at 7:50 a.m. in the Monastery Chapel in Vasey Patio. The schedule allows you to drop off your son, park your car, and join us in the Chapel. After Mass, those who can stay are welcome to pray the Rosary.

Requesting Prayers

If you would like more information or if you would like us to pray for a special intention, send your request to: SaintMonicaPrayerGroup@gmail.com.

Consider joining us for these "special" gatherings:

Sept. 5, 2024 – Start of the year reception

Dec. 12, 2024 – Christmas reception and potluck

March 13, 2025 – St. Patrick's Day reception and potluck

May 15, 2025 – End of year reception

It's About Time

Understanding Student "Office Hours"

As Dorothy and Toto came to realize in the film "Wizard of Oz" they're not in Kansas, anymore. Same goes for new high schoolers. Saints campus life isn't same as middle school.

One big difference is how your new Nutmeg Street campus manages time. For example, there are office hours (when the school is open for business and classes) and another set of office hours.

The second set of office hours are two regularly scheduled blocks of time (usually Tuesday/Friday), that precede the school day.

Many mistakenly think that academic tutoring is the only use of the office hours' time when there are many other great uses of the time that students should consider.

Look at the following suggested uses for the time set aside for student office hours.

Student Engagement/Student Success

- Tutoring
- Group projects with classmates
- Make up Exams
- Make up missing work
- Extended time testing
- Essay review and writing workshops
- Extended time for labs and projects
- Review sessions - semester or AP exams (optional)

Conferencing

- Student/teacher
- Family/teacher
- Student/counselor
- Family/counselor
- Family/teacher/counselor

Time

- CANVAS review
- Club meetings
- ASB meetings
- PIT meetings
- Intramural team, referee, and captain meeting
- Rally/Activity planning

- Sports team meetings
- Shepherding (Tuesday's)
- Retreat team meetings
- Campus ministry meetings
- Service hour submission
- Society of Saints Scholars
- Mass band rehearsal
- Liturgy planning
- College visits
- UC/CSU application workshops

Other tasks

- Work permits
- Transcript requests
- Course and schedule changes
- Schedule doctor and dentist visits during office hours to minimize class absences

Note to Parents/Guardians:

Encourage your son to stay focused this semester! Get off on the right foot and use the Office Hours time slot to seek the tutoring, extra help or time needed to support his academic work.

No Need to Join the Austin Parents Association Because You're Already a Member

By Natalie Boeh (pronounced Bay),
President of the Austin Parents Association

The day your son was accepted to Saints was the day parents and guardians became members of the Austin Parents Association.

Who are we? We are the parent support organization for St. Augustine High School. Our mission is to provide a link from home to school and collaborate in the overall educational experience for our sons.

And to avoid any confusion we repeat all parents and guardians are members of the Austin Parents Association! We welcome your support and attendance at the many sponsored and supported events throughout the school year.

Parents who participate in Austin Parents Association (APA) events and activities have an opportunity to connect with the school and other families and share the gifts and values St. Augustine High School provides to our sons.

Volunteer options include supporting the band or a sports team, serving coffee and cookies at Grandparents Day or Open House, joining the APA Board to chair an event, and many more!

We also invite you to attend Meet the Teachers Night, College Nights, Family Mass and BBQ, Parent Social and other campus activities to help you feel informed and connected.

The Austin Parent Association Board looks forward to meeting you! You will see board members at school events wearing 'APA' name badges – please stop and introduce yourself. Our information can be found on the Saints website under the Parents tab:

<https://www.sahs.org/austin-parents-association>

We hope you will join us! Being involved with the Saints community is not only rewarding for your sons, but also for yourself and family. Here's to a wonderful year ahead!

Saintsman Recounts His SAVI Experience

By Peter Thorne ('26), Member of the Augustinian student newspaper

Malvern Prep campus, Melvern, PA.

Peter Thorne ('26)

Before this year, many Saintsman, including myself knew what SAVI was all about. My experience began a year ago, when Saints Chaplain Fr. Max Villeneuve pulled me out of class to tell me that I had been selected for this trip to Philadelphia at a school called Malvern Prep about 45 minutes outside the city. The only detail I was given about the trip was the names of the other sophomores who would also be traveling with me.

The crew selected to represent St. Augustine High School consisted of Tommy Battaglia, Kekoa da Luz, Devin Manns, David Sabaga, Jamison Gerding, and yours truly. We soon learned curated content of our trip consisted of talks on the core values of Augustinian schools from across the country (and Canada). We would share core values that united us and showed us all the similarities we shared with one another. It turns out that our core values aren't the only thing we share either.

Finally, on a Thursday morning at 7:30 a.m., our flight to the other side of the country took off. After landing, we were met outside the airport by a bus full of kids from the other Augustinian schools, who were attending.

Once we arrived at Malvern Prep, we immediately noticed the campus resembled that of a college. We also noticed Malvern had two gyms and the brand new golfing simulator.

Interestingly, on one of the conference bus rides, some of the Malvern kids started singing their alma mater, only for us to realize that our Saints alma mater was the exact same one. We all knew the lyrics and sang it together, and, much to the amazement of everyone, we were all singing it correctly. I learned a lot of things about our own school and others during the trip, but central to the lessons was what most students would call the core of the school: The Brotherhood.

The Brotherhood isn't something unique to Saints. It stretches across all of the other Augustinian schools. From San Diego to Philadelphia, we all instantly meshed from Day One. We connected with others over the most meaningful parts of our Augustinian education. The other schools took us in as their own and treated us as such. There was never a moment when we were outsiders to the other groups — from the beginning, we knew we were all brothers.

Luckily, we were given the opportunity to tour Villanova University as well as getting to watch a lacrosse game — Malvern is ranked #3 in the nation among high schools — and sightseeing in downtown Philadelphia.

The best and most fun part of the entire trip, however, was spending time with the kids from the other schools, specifically the kids from New Jersey, St. Augustine Prep.

We did everything from watching movies (after we finally got the projector to work) to karaoke to wrestling on inflatable mattresses. When it came to sleeping, which usually didn't happen until about 1 a.m. or so, Tommy, a fellow Saintsman, had it made. The day before the trip, he had bought an inflatable mattress, and it turned out to be about two and a half feet thick and the size of a full bed. The thing was massive, and Tommy was sleeping like a king in the corner of a classroom while the rest of us had our sleeping bags.

Come morning, breakfast was served at 8:45 and was delicious. One of the many perks of visiting the prestigious, wealthy school was the food. Simply put, it was fabulous. We were served three course meals, consisting of fabulous appetizers, entrées, and desserts.

Eventually, the time to head home had come, but no one wanted to leave. We were going to miss everyone, especially those New Jersey kids. The late nights were going to be missed as well as all the accompanying fun. But it wasn't completely over yet. We managed to meet up with the kids from Oklahoma at the airport — making a tiring trek three terminals down.

Once back in San Diego, we returned to classes with only one night to rest, but now we had a newfound appreciation for the Augustinian culture. Our experience was one I won't forget anytime soon. I got to meet so many new people from across the country, and it really gave me a chance to make new friends and grow closer to our school's Augustinian roots, which I now realize was probably the entire goal.

Augustinians, faculty and students at Malvern Prep were amazing hosts, and made the whole trip remarkable by accepting us in and instantly bonding with us, treating us as their own.

Next year, when Saints hosts SAVI, I'm sure it'll be an experience that students from across the country will never forget.

Understanding SAVI

“SAVI” or Student Augustinian Value Institute is a long-standing teaching tradition for Augustinian administered secondary schools in North America. One of the main focuses for SAVI is to conduct an annual event where nine Augustinian secondary schools send student representatives to a yearly conference.

SAVI's structure allows for the exchange of ideas between schools with hopes of improving their respective communities. Site of the confab is rotated among Augustinian schools. The most recent SAVI gathering was hosted by Malvern Prep, near Philadelphia.

Sophomore attendees are selected from respective student bodies for their demonstrations of Augustinian values, leadership, and commitment to the various areas of school life.

A main goal of SAVI is to reinforce a sense of unity among Augustinian schools based mostly on their shared ideals.

“SAVI provides an opportunity for our students to collaborate with other Augustinian schools about how best to live out the values Unitas, Veritas, and Caritas,” said Saints Principal James Horne.

THREE-PEAT. Head Coach Tim Golden's Saints Varsity Tennis saw its 2024 season draw to a close by winning its third consecutive Western League Conference title. That's the first time in 30 years that the team has accomplished this feat. With an overall record of 15-2 complimenting their 9-1 league record.

Miranda Plays in Petco Prep All-Star Game

Saints varsity baseball player Shane Miranda, who is heading to Notre Dame in the Fall, was one of 48 players that competed in the San Diego Padres annual high school All-Star showcase game.

Miranda, a catcher was on the first team All-Western League team this year and the only Saintsman to play in spring game played at Petco Park. The game traditionally showcases top players in San Diego County in an East vs. West format. The East team won the game 8-3. During the game, Saintsman Shane Miranda lined a single to right.

Eagle Scout is the highest rank attainable in the Scouts BSA program by the Boy Scouts of America. Since its inception in 1911, only four percent of Scouts have earned this rank after a lengthy review process. The Eagle Scout rank has been earned by over 2.5 million youth, including young women. In 2020, the first female Eagle Scouts were added to the Boy Scouts of America. By 2021 there were nearly 1,000 female Scouts, who became members of the inaugural Class of Female Eagle Scouts.

The rank of Eagle Scout may be earned by a Scout who has been a Life Scout for at least six months, has earned a minimum of 21 merit badges, has demonstrated Scout Spirit, and has demonstrated leadership within their troop.

Additionally, they must plan, develop, and lead a service project—the Eagle Project—a community service effort that demonstrates both leadership and a commitment to duty. A successful Eagle Project includes conceptualizing of the project, designing the structures, creating a budget, fundraising and managing their peers in the construction.

After all requirements are met, they must complete an Eagle Scout board of review.

Like all Saintsmen, Eagles who attend or attended St. Augustine High School come from all areas of San Diego County.

New Eagle Scouts are four saintsman and brothers from Troop 170 in Bay Park. They are, left to right, Matthew Cramp ('26); Aaron Cramp ('24); Michael Sanford ('24) and Logan Sanford ('24).

Class of 2024 Saints Senior, Pablo A. Mirales '24, achieved his Eagle Scout Rank earlier this Spring. Pablo has been involved in Scouts for 8 years with Troop 51 in La Mesa.

Saints Varsity Football Season is a Toss Up

How well will Saints Varsity Football Team perform this Fall is anyone's guess. Staggered by losing more than dozen starters who have transferred to other schools, one thing is sure: Varsity Football will play its 2024 season under the direction of new head coach Ron Caragher.

In a preseason report in the Union Tribune, the key players this Fall are expected to be Malosi Iuli, Jacob Valdez, Wilford Anderson, Parker Cresswell and Vince Smith.

QB Smith is a transfer student from Cathedral Catholic.

Saints coming off a 10-5 season will play in the Western League along with Cathedral Catholic; Point Loma; Madison, and Lincoln.

Non-Saints sources pick this to be a rebuilding year for the purple and gold but never underestimate Saints fighting spirit, especially now that it is led by a former college coach.

to their God, their Church, their family and the common good of society. Kindness, compassion and service to others are hallmarks of an Augustinian education and will be the focus of our work with Saintsmen this year.

We believe that by embracing the value of kindness, we can build a supportive environment where every student feels valued and empowered to grow both academically and spiritually.

We encourage you to join us in reinforcing this message at home. Together, let's model kindness in our daily lives and encourage our boys to do the same. Your support is crucial in helping us create a school culture where respect and empathy are celebrated and lived out.

Our aim is to educate SAINTSMEN deeply; to move beyond a college preparatory curriculum and teach them lessons of the heart as well as the mind.

On behalf of the faculty and staff at Saints, I want to welcome you to a new school year and share with you our enthusiasm to work for and with all of you as we focus on developing the Hearts and Minds of Saintsmen.

Drone Soccer World Cup

Reporting by Griffin Cappiello ('24), Editor Emeritis, The Augustinian Saints Student Newspaper.

The first ever Academic Drone Soccer World Cup & Career Fair was held recently in nearby Balboa Park. The techie event demonstrated the future of robotics competitions and career readiness programs.

Participants include more than 20 teams from four countries which makes this the largest international competition held outside of Korea.

Drone Soccer is a demanding technical competition where students must first learn to build, program, and repair aircraft designed for collision. Each team flies five aircraft that are protected by spherical cages, ramming and blocking in midair so that their offensive drone can score while also defending their own goal. Between flights, teams must quickly act as a repair crew to repair the resulting damage.

The tournament looks like a combination of Harry Potter's Quidditch with the high-stakes pit crew of Formula 1. Keeping their team's aircraft in one piece requires the application of modern industry skills under pressure. The ultimate goal is to connect students to high-paying jobs as pilots, aircraft technicians, and air traffic controllers.

unnecessary tensions and worry, I would offer the following suggestions to both incoming and returning Saintsmen:

- Approach the school year with a positive attitude.
- Be open to trying new things and making new friends.
- Do your best to stay organized.
- Make sleep a priority and be sure to make healthy choices when at all possible.
- Limit screen time. Blue light can have an adverse impact on your circadian rhythms.
- Finally, be sure to seek out help when needed. If you do not understand a concept, raise your hand and ask questions. Be sure to attend Office Hours, they make a difference!

If you are dealing with a personal crisis (e.g., feelings or anxiety or depression) do not suffer in silence. The instructors and counseling staff at St. Augustine High School are here to support you and help you through those challenging times, be they academic or personal.

I am thrilled that another school year is upon us, and that cranium expansion is on the horizon! Every day is a chance to learn something new and grow as a person. Commit to viewing every Monday with the same joy and enthusiasm as you do Friday! Every Monday is a launching point for new discoveries, inquiries, and opportunities to think critically. T.G.I.M! and have a phenomenal school year as you pursue wisdom and happiness!

Campus CANVAS

Primer on the school's Learning Management System

St. Augustine High School is constantly seeking out ways in which we can improve our delivery of the curriculum. To that end, and in an effort to increase efficiencies in communications between teacher, student, and parent, St. Augustine High School investigated several learning management systems and determined that CANVAS would best suit the needs of our campus.

A learning management system (LMS) is a software application or Web-based technology used to plan, implement, and assess classroom learning. Typically, a learning management system provides an instructor with a way to create and deliver content, monitor student participation, and assess student performance. A learning management system may also provide students with the ability to use interactive features such as threaded discussions, video conferencing, and discussion forums.

You will become quite familiar with CANVAS as every student has a CANVAS account and you, as a parent or guardian, will also be able to access the information for each and every course your son takes while at St. Augustine.

Be Safe!

streets leading to Saints from University become narrower past Upas Street. With the parked cars running up and down the streets, it makes it almost impossible for two cars to pass each other when going in opposite directions. The closure of Pershing Drive for redevelopment purposes two years ago, and the changes made on 30th Street have only added to the confusion of drivers attempting to pass through the area.

For those of you using the 805 Freeway, there are four principle ways to come to Saints: Boundary Street, 33rd Street, Bancroft Street, or 32nd Street. Google Maps normally directs drivers getting off the 805 Freeway to proceed to Saints via 33rd Street. This street seems like a good choice except for the narrowing of the road past Upas Street. The next three blocks take a great deal of cooperation with drivers heading in the opposite direction to successfully navigate these streets.

Complicating the situation is McKinley Elementary School one block to the east of 33rd Street. Being a public school, there are a great number of children in the neighborhood walking to school with their parents. For some time the residents in the area felt the amount of traffic presented a dangerous situation for the parents and their children walking to McKinley. To help the situation, the City of San Diego agreed a place speed bumps in the road and a series of four-way stops on each corner leading towards Saints. The city has further reduced the speed limit through this area on 33rd Street to 15 miles per hour. According to members of the neighborhood, the traffic-calming measures have helped the situation, but have not created the safety they thought would be attained.

Neighborhood leaders say that the 15- to 20-minute windows when student drivers and parents are driving to Saints or picking up the carpool at the end of the day drive at unsafe speeds. While Saints can claim that other non-Saints people are on the streets as well, too often it is Saints parents or a young man driving carelessly through the neighborhood. Other drivers are indeed driving on neighborhood streets due to the closure of Pershing Drive and the difficulty of driving down 30th Street due to the installation of bicycle lanes. The truth of the matter is that dangerous driving can occur from people driving through the community, from people who live in North Park as well as the Saints Community.

I am asking everyone from Saints to be responsible and respectful of our neighbors. Many of them have small children and speeding or reckless driving puts them at greater risk. If the speed limit is 15 miles an hour, please respect driving slower down 33rd Street if you happen to choose that course. Varying your route would achieve less congestion. Boundary and 32nd Streets are also good choices. Cars can be dangerous and the Saints Community needs to set the example. No one wants a tragedy especially one that involves a member of the Saints Community.

I will be out on 33rd Street on different days both before and after school twice a week. My goal is to see and learn what neighborhood leaders have said to me and the city. This is St. Augustine High School and we can do better and will solve this problem. Our goal is to build a stronger neighborhood around Saints that is gentler and kinder—a place where we can work together to solve our common problems. Thank you for responsibly addressing this issue with your son.
